

Princess in Black – by Brogan J

There once lived a princess whose parents weren't at home much. So, she had to find something to do. Hmm...she thought. I could be a Super Hero!
"Hmm...what's going on in here?" asked Mrs. Wigtower. "Nothing" said Princess Magnolia. That evening, Princess Magnolia was having tea. She accidentally dropped her cup. So, she had to get a new cup in the closet. In the closet she stumbled upon a secret entrance. Where does it lead to? thought Princess Magnolia...

So, she thought Mom & Dad were on vacation so she had nothing to lose. She crawled into the dark hole. At the end of the hole was outside. She didn't know that so she fell and landed on her unicorn. She went to town & got her black super hero suit. When she was shopping she ran into somebody. Her name was Princess Avagail. She and Princess Avagail used to be friends in princess school. "Well", said Princess Avagail. The news came on. It said a huge hamster tribe is eating a lady's garden. That could be my first crime, thought Princess Magnolia. "Sorry, got to go...Mom wants me home by noon". I thought her mom and dad were on vacation? thought Princess Avagail. When Avagail looked back to say, "I thought your parents were on vacation?" she realized that Princess Magnolia was gone. Off Princess Magnolia went to the castle to get Frimplepants the unicorn and his new disguise on. When she got home to the castle Frimplepants wasn't in sight. Then she checked the horse barn. It was Frimplepants. She had foals! After that, Princess Magnolia called the vet. The vet said to put Frimplepants and her foals in the barn with the lights off to rest. So she did. Later, Princess Magnolia got ready for her first adventure. When she was done, she got Blackie (Frimplepants' Super Hero name) and headed for the enchanted forest. On their way, she remembered that she hadn't cleaned up the broken tea cup from earlier. The maid was going to be mad at her. Then she saw the house that was on the news. She stopped & got off her horse. She knocked on the door. A soft voice said "help" and then opened the door. "Hi" said Princess Magnolia. "Help," the woman said, "they're in the back yard." Princess Magnolia saw what she was talking about. A huge hamster tribe was attacking the lady's garden. They even broke her garden gnome.

Princess Magnolia used her karate moves on the hamsters...kick, kapow, bang! After that, she loaded up the hamsters and brought them into town for the vet to take care of. When she got into town, people were chanting, "Blackie, Blackie!" They were also chanting, "Princess in Black, Princess in Black!" And that's how she got her name!

The end!
