

THE Princess IN BLACK and the CASTLE GOBBLERS

Chapter 1

Brring! Brring! Brring! The monster alarm ring rang. Princess Magnolia was reading a nice book in the royal library while enjoying some tea. But when she heard her glitter-stone ring, she closed both of her eyes, peeked with her left eye, and then with her right.

Now, with both eyes open, she hurried to the broom closet, shrugged out of her dress, and changed into the Princess in Black. As she fastened her mask on, her foot was already opening the secret chute door. The Princess in Black slid down the slippery chute and soared over the castle wall.

Meanwhile, in the courtyard, Frimplepants's glitter horseshoe rang. He looked left, then right. When there was no one in sight, he went into the secret passage.

As Frimplepants came from the other side, he was now Blacky, the Princess in Black's faithful steed. Just then, the Princess in Black landed on his back.

"Fly, Blacky fly!" She said.

Blacky did not fly, but he did run very fast.

Chapter 2

They headed to the goat pasture. When they reached it, the Princess in Blankets and the Goat Avenger were already battling two big drooling purple monsters with neon yellow teeth. They both had horns, blue polka dots, and one humongous creepy eye.

The Princess in Black didn't waste a minute to help her friends. She immediately pushed a button on her scepter and it turned into a staff. Jumping up to a monster, The Princess in Black tapped it on the head to get its attention. When the monster turned around, she hopped back to the ground.

With a boost from Blacky, the Princess in Black went into action. Princess Pounce! Tiara Trip! Twinkle Twinkle Little Smash! She hogtied the infuriated monster. "Go back to Monster Land," she demanded.

The big drooling monster roared in disagreement.

The Princess in Black shouted, "Behave, beast!"

The big monster sighed. It rolled back into the hole. They always did. Eventually.

While the Princess in Black was battling her monster, the Princess in Blankets and the Goat Avenger had gotten rid of their monster too. As both monsters disappeared into the hole, the three heroes were about to dance their victory dance when they heard a roar coming from the direction of Princess Magnolia's castle.

Chapter 3

It sounded like a monster roar. Princess Magnolia gathered the Goat Avenger on Blacky and the Princess in Blankets hopped on her so called unicorn. Then, the heroes rushed to Princess Magnolia's castle just in time to see a very pink and very furry monster devouring a flag on top of the tallest tower where Princess Magnolia would have crumpets and tea. The Princess in Black was shocked.

She crawled up the tree, took a good look around, back flipped off the tree and on to a monster's head. It looked at her cross-eyed and roared very loudly.

The Princess in Black shouted, "Don't eat the castle, monsters!"

The monster she was standing on roared louder.

One monster that the Goat Avenger was clinging to was eating the window-drapes, glass, and all. Even the flowerpot! The Princess in Black pulled out her fan-shield and extended it. She then banged her staff against it.

The monster that the Princess in Blankets was fighting with ran away with its ears ringing. The Princess in Black banged her fan a couple of more times, but it didn't seem to take any more effect on the remaining monsters. So, away went her fan. The Princess in Black got a hand from the Princess in Blankets.

The Princess in Black faced the monster and started running around it. The monster soon became dizzy and tired so it lay down the ground. Very dizzy. In fact, it was so dizzy it totally forgot about the two heroes! Soon, it was snoring so loudly that Princess Magnolia's castle shook so much it nearly toppled to the ground.

Seeing to the monster fast asleep, the Princess in Black and the Princess in Blankets tied the snoring pink lump with sturdy rope and send it rolling to the direction of Monster Land.

Chapter 4

Meanwhile, the Goat Avenger wasn't having a great time fighting his monster. It kept trying to squash him with its foot like a bothersome flea. The Goat Avenger did not want to be squashed into a bothersome flea. Even with Blacky, the pony's help, this was one aggressive monster!

He just hoped the Princess in Black would help him soon because he was getting tired. The Goat Avenger's dream came true right that instant because at that moment the Princess in Black and the Princess in Blankets came to him to help. But this time the monster really lost its last straw and smoke started spewing around and out of his ears!

"Uh Oh," said the heroes timidly. This was going to take a long time.
